How we compete in E-Pharmacy

Our 2028 ambition is not to be the largest by revenue but to be the most integrated by capability and the most disciplined by margin. The competitive set is anchored by a handful of named operators below.

Biggest competitive threat to manage

Al-Nahdi Online at SAR 1.64B (captive online of Al-Nahdi Retail) — the dominant click-and-collect player. Whites Pharmacy Online at SAR 920M — the pure-play online native. Amazon Pharmacy potential entry to KSA is the headline tail risk.

Biggest competitive opportunity to capture

Same-day delivery expansion to Tier-2 cities (Tabuk, Abha, Hail) Q3-2026. Combined with the Mizan Digital Health bundling and the dark-pharmacy build-out, EBITDA can compound from 6.8% to 12.5% by 2028.

The plan is operationalised through the discrete initiatives below. Each has a named owner (the BU CEO) and a quarterly milestone reported through the StrategyOS Monday Brief.

1. NPHIES e-prescription full integration — completed Q1-2026 — Rx share doubled
2. Same-day delivery expansion to Tier-2 cities — Tabuk, Abha, Hail Q3-2026
3. Dark-pharmacy build-out — 4 sites Riyadh + Jeddah, opens Q2-2026
4. Mizan Digital Health bundling — discounted consultation + Rx + delivery package live Q3-2026
5. AI prescription verification — drug-drug interaction, dosage flags, partner: Mizan Digital Health platform

06 · BU-LEVEL RISKS

What could break the plan.

R-01 — Active Pharmaceutical Ingredient (API) supply concentration Impact: H · Likelihood: M

~74% of Mizan's API supply is sourced from India and China. Trade-flow disruption, FX shocks, or regulatory action would compress manufacturing margin within 60-90 days.

Mitigation: Dual-source qualification programme (target 100% of top-50 APIs dual-sourced by 2028); 90-day strategic safety stock on essential APIs; Lifera partnership for local biosimilar capacity.

R-07 — Cyber / health-data sovereignty Impact: H · Likelihood: L

NDMO data-classification audit Q4-2026; Digital Health and E-Pharmacy hold sensitive patient data. Non-sovereign LLM use is a finding-risk under tier-3 guidelines.

Mitigation: StrategyOS sovereign Tier-3 deployment in place; NDMO pre-engagement clean; data-locality controls enforced.

R-10 — E-pharmacy regulatory headwind Impact: M · Likelihood: L

SFDA online-pharmacy framework still evolving; possible scope restrictions on direct-to-consumer cold-chain Rx; competitive entry by Amazon Pharmacy / multinational players.

Mitigation: Active SFDA engagement; click-and-collect channel as buffer; NPHIES integration moat; bundled clinical services.

07 · CAPITAL ASK 2026-2028

Investment to deliver the plan.

Cumulative capital ask 2026-2028: SAR 180M. Funded from a combination of BU-generated cashflow, group capital recycling, and the SAR 2.65B group envelope. Note: Dark-pharmacy build-out (4 sites), Tier-2 same-day delivery infrastructure, NPHIES + AI integration.
